Belinda Henwood is an Award Winning Actress, Writer and Artist based in Durban, South Africa.

Having begun her career in 1994, she has starred in a variety of cabarets, reviews, videos, comedies, dramas, musicals and pantomimes. Recent roles include :

Stephanie Jenkins' Whispers in the Corridors (verbatim accounts of political activists imprisoned under Apartheid rule), which played at the Constitutional Hill Women's Gaol in Johannesburg in 2023.

Dah Ling in Aladdin; Granny in Little Red Riding Hood; Charlotte in Charlotte's Web; Sophie in BFG; Aunt Sponge in James & the Giant Peach; The White Queen in Alice in Wonderland Panto; Polly Pumpkinseed in Snow White Panto – all performed for Kickstart Theatre.

She was most recently seen as Queen Gertrude in Hamlet & Emilia in Othello, both for the Link Theatre

Internationally she performed in London and Frankfurt with Michael Broderick's One Man, One Light, directed by David Gouldie.

Her alter ego, Neither Newsworthy, (who sadly resides only on Facebook), can educate on the etiquette of Tea, let you in on things of interest and poke you in the ribs about upcoming events.

She is the vocalist and accordionist for the quirky Durban based band, The South Jersey Pom-Poms. Previously she was the Station Imaging voice for East Coast radio and is a prolific Voice Artist for various companies.

Belinda involves herself in local Charity/Fundraising Events as well as Corporate Training for London based Bi-Jingo
